Dawnsong touched her nose to the moonpool.
She saw Lillypetal her former mentor. The light gray she cat had a look of concern on her face. "The cold is what will kill." Lillypetal said. Dawnsong didn't even bother to cry out as the starry she cat faded. Dawnsong knew that leaf bare was coming but she had plenty of catmint.
"The cold will kill." She repeated to herself. "What could it mean?"

Chapter 1

Coldkit P.O.V
I got up and saw my brother Harekit. "Wanna play ShadowClan invaders?" He asked. "After I get fresh kill." I said. I walked over to the fresh kill pile and grabbed a skinny rabbit. "There's hardly meat on it." Harekit squeaked "it's leaf fall Hare brain of course the prey is skinny." I snapped. "Sorr-e" he muttered. I could kill him sometimes. I finished my rabbit and stood up. "Let's play ShadowClan invaders." I said. Before Harekit could take a breath I said "I call ShadowClan!" Harekit sighed "Why do you want to be the villain all the time?" He asked. "Because being evil is fun!" I said. Before Harekit could say anything I leaped on top of him.he was so startled he whimpered. As if on cue my mother Frozenfire came out of the nursery. "Coldkit what have I told you about playing ruffly?!" She scolded. All I felt was anger "I cant remember since you scold me about everything!!" I snapped. Frozenfire looked really angry now but I didn't give a rabbit tail. "You should never speak to your mother like that!" She said. "Well I did and I will!!" I screamed. "No mossball for a moon!" My mother yowled. "I'll do what I like!!" I screamed. I stomped off to the elders den. Maybe I could hear about evil cats and get some inspiration. This pathetic clan called WindClan where I lived seemed to hate me anyway. But when I became leader they would fear me and respect me. I would be feared. Killing would be an instinct. And Frozenfire will be the first to go.

Hope you like this chapter. I promise to update whenever I can

Chapter 2

Coldkit P.O.V

After hearing about the Dark Forest attack I felt better. I saw Harekit playing with his friend Swiftkit. I sighed how could all of my kin be so weak. My father was Nightstar the leader of this sorry clan. My mother was a mean furball who hates me. And my brother is a kind weak pathetic cat. I'd prefer to not have a family anyway. Harekit was okay. Maybe with some corruption he could be my deputy when not if when I become leader. Frozenfire and Nightstar where done for. To weak and kind to be evil. I went to my hidden place. It was a tunnel I had found behind the nursery. The entrance was covered by a rock but once I was climbing it by myself and I fell in. The tunnel led to a small cave. It was where I went when I wanted to be alone. I compared notes to all the villains I had heard about. Hawkfrost had followed Tigerstar. Tigerstar had been a genius the only thing that had stopped him was Firestar. I leaped upwards. "That's it!" I said with joy. I will kill whatever stands in my way. Tigerstar waited to long. I won't make that mistake. "I will finish what you started Tigerstar." I whispered "I won't fail." I said. I came out of the tunnel before anyone noticed I was gone. If anyone besides Harekit would notice. "All cats old enough to catch their own prey gather around for a clan meeting!" Nightstar yowled. I figured since I was for moons old I could go. Nightstar had a sad and angry look on his face "Breezedash has been murdered!!" He said. "She was murdered by a WindClan warrior!!" I gasped again along with the rest of the clan. "It was Rabbitfire!!" I saw Mistmoon look guilty. It was Mistmoon! Hopefully I get her as my mentor

Chapter 3

Coldkit P.O.V

I woke up and stretched. I grabbed a pitiful shrew. It was now leaf bare. Two moons have passed since Rabbitfires murder. Mistmoon told me it wasn't her. She swore on her only kits life so she meant it. I was becoming an apprentice today. I was excited! Not about the learning but Tigerstar might finnaly come to me in my dreams! I've tried before but he never came. Maybe if I prove myself today he will come. I can't wait to see. I've heard there are only two she-cats in the dark forest. Well tonight it might be three. I heard my father summon the clan. I followed my brother slowly,with dignity. Nightstar stood on the tall stone "Harekit from now until you revive your warrior name you will be known as Harepaw. Blazeslash you will mentor Harepaw." Nightstar said. Nightstar looked down at Coldkit. "Coldkit from now on you will be known as Coldpaw. Your mentor will be..

Help I need help thinking of her mentor's name. I have decided that one of you could enter a cat. All you need to do is fill out a form

Rank (deputy or warrior)
If I choose your cat than you get a shoutout.

Chapter 4

"You're mentor will be Skytail." Nightstar said. I have a small sigh as I walked up to my new mentor. Skytail was a kind cat a weak cat. She was strong and skilled in battle though so I might get some good training. "What are we doing first?" I said trying to sound enthusiastic. "We are touring the territory with Swiftpaw and Heatherbloom." Skytail said. Great. I thought, Swiftpaw was a cocky arrogant tom who I would murder for a mouse tail. Maybe I will murder him I thought darkly. "Hi Coldpaw!" Swiftpaw said. "Hi Swiftpaw." I said flatly. "Witch border are we going to first?" Swiftpaw asked Heatherbloom "the ThunderClan border." She said. I was disappointed I was hoping for the ShadowClan border. We reached the stream that marked are borderline. I glanced around at ThunderClan's territory. The soil looked good for digging and hiding bodies to bad theirs none in my territory. Next we where headed for the ShadowClan border. "Bet you I can beat you in a race to the border!" Swiftpaw said "I bet you'll eat my dust!" I said racing off. I smelt a weird smell and I must of crossed the border. Uh oh! I saw a patrol of warriors heading toward me. I ran and crossed the border back into my territory. "Listen kit!" A white she cat snarled "Stay out of our territory!" I felt my blood boil "You've never made a mistake!" I hissed "I'm sure you're favored by StarClan right?! Well guess what I made a mistake okay! I didn't hunt I didn't hurt you and it's my first day out!" I snapped. The white she cat was..... Laughing? "Well said apprentice." She meowed "you'll make a great warrior if you speak your mind like that." She said. "Thank you." I said. The she cat and her patrol marked the borders and left. Skytail looked furious but Heatherbloom was holding back laughter. Swiftpaw looked ashamed that I had beaten him in the race. The way back to camp was quiet. I went to my new nest and closed my eyes hoping Tigerstar would come.

Thank you Prismarine_Angels for Skytail and please comment what you think of this chapter

I saw a dark brown tom with long claws and amber eyes. "Tigerstar." I said bowing my head in respect. "Follow me." He said emotionlessly. He brought me to a dark forest with dark mist around the ground and a blood river in the distance. Such a beautiful place. Maybe I could make All of the clans territory look like it. A cat can dream. "You want to learn the true skills of murder and deception?" Tigerstar asked with glowing amber eyes. "Yes sir." I said respectively. "I like this respect." He muttered to himself. We where near the blood river when I saw a calico she cat with yellow teeth. "Mapleshade mentor this kit." Tigerstar said "Coldpaw this is your mentor Mapleshade." He said then he left. Mapleshade and I worked on a move where you aim for a cats eyes then slit their throat. It was fun! I felt myself awaken. I was tired like I hadn't slept at all and I was sore like I had done that move all night but I didn't care. I had no scratches and I couldn't wait to go back to the Dark forest. I'll rule this clan and all the others. I'll be the cruelest leader ever! I'll own all territory! And most of all, I'd prove myself to the Dark Forest.

Sorry for a short chapter but I'll update more today. I have tons of time on my hands and no life so I have tons of wattpad time.

Chapter 6

I yawned as I stretched and headed outside. I had always been an early riser so I woke up before the sun rose. I grabbed a stale skinny rabbit. I saw Skytail coming toward the apprentice den. I intercepted her halfway through the field. "Hi Skytail!" I said. "Hi Coldpaw." She said.

"What are we doing today?" I asked "you are getting moss for the elders." She growled. I swear I could've growled back. "Why?" I snarled. " Skytail looked at me with piercing hazel eyes. "Because you crossed the ShadowClan border and almost provoked a fight." She said with an icy voice. All I cold feel was pure rage.

"Can you show me where the moss is?" I asked
"Sure." Skytail said. She led me toward a small patch of forest. Then I struck my claws across Skytail's throat. The flesh through my claws felt good. The blood staining them was amazing. But now I needed to hide it so it looked like I hadn't killed her. I headed toward a fox den and got some dung. I put some more scratches on Skytail's dead body. I jumped into a stream to get the scent off me. I already had my story planned.

I ran toward the WindClan camp and acted like I was terrified. "Help!!" I wailed "Skytail's being attacked by a fox!!" instantly warriors rose to their paws. "Where?" Nightstar asked. "By the fox den." I said "Rosedust Silversparrow Heatherbloom. Go and help Skytail fight off the fox." The mentioned warriors headed out. Swiftpaw came over and sat by me. I rolled my eyes. I guess he is the least annoying apprentice. He was kind of ambitious. With some corruption he might be trustable, maybe my deputy. After what felt like moons the patrol came back covered in blood and scratches. There was a fox there but it had been out when I was there. I saw Silversparrow carrying Skytail's dead body.

Our medicine cat Dawnsong took the body into her den. She also allowed the patrol into her den. At sunhigh Skytail's body was in the middle of the field. My new mentor was Icysplash. I was happy.

Icysplash was a white tom with a giant black splash like mark on his side. He was cunning and quiet. And a very respected warrior. I sat vigil for Skytail since cats would be suspicious if I didn't.

It was a cold leaf bare night and I couldn't wait for moonhigh. Swiftpaw was sitting next to me. He was sitting vigil because Skytail was his mother. I refused to move closer to Swiftpaw even though I was visibly shaking with cold. When the vigil ended at moonhigh I went to my nest and feel asleep. Oddly I didn't go to the dark forest. I wonder why.

Sorry for killing Skytail Prismarine_Angels but it is a book about murder. Comment your thoughts on this chapter

Chapter 7

Sorry for such slow updates *note the sarcasm

"Coldpaw wake up." Harepaw said I reached out my paw and batted him on the nose hard.
"Leave me alone." I grumbled "we are doing battle training!" Harepaw said. I sighed and got to my paws. We went to the training field and learned the basics. It was really boring. Our mentors decided to see who was the best fighter. It was me against Swiftpaw and Harepaw against Mistypaw. I leaped for Swiftpaw and landed a tail length away from him on purpose. "You can't even leap." He taunted "I bet a-" Swiftpaw never go to finish his sentence because I had rammed into his side and he fell on his back. I pinned him down with a paw to his throat. Next I would go against the winner between Harepaw and Mistypaw. Mistypaw won. I rammed into her side but she didn't fall over. I kicked her so she was off balance then I rammed into her. I pinned her down in the same way she had with Swiftpaw. "Coldpaw gets the best piece of prey on the fresh kill pile." Icysplash said. Heatherbloom Icysplash Dashwind and Breezestorm looked suspicious of how easily I had won and how I fought. "Where did you learn to fight like that?" Icysplash asked me. "I just went on instinct." I lied. I had learned those moves in the Dark Forest. The Dark Forest was home to the cold blooded and merciless. It was where I belonged. I was ruthless, cruel,cold. I was evil

I update so quickly don't I

I picked a big but scrawny rabbit from the fresh kill pile. I ate it quickly hoping that I would go to the Dark Forest. I finished the rabbit and went to my nest I closed my eyes and prayed that I would see a dark forest cat. A certain calico with yellow eyes entered my mind. "Mapleshade." I mewed in respect. "Coldpaw" Mapleshade said. "We will be working on a very special move today." Mapleshade said. "Can I ask you a question Mapleshade?" I asked. "I suppose.'" Mapleshade said. "Why didn't I go to the Dark forest last night?" I asked sheepishly. "We can't have our most promising apprentice getting tired now can we?" Mapleshade said. "Now I will teach you a move that is effective and easy." Mapleshade said taking me to the blood river shore. "Brokenstar come here!" Mapleshade demanded. "Mapleshade! This better be important because I was teaching Pinepaw!" Brokenstar said. "It is flea brain!" Mapleshade said. "We are demonstrating the no throat kill." She said. "Okay." Brokenstar said. Mapleshade lunged at Brokenstar. Instead of going for his thrount she dug her claw into his chest. She the flung him to the ground and slashed his stomach. "I can't wait to try that!" I said excitedly.
~a few hours later~

I have finally perfected the no throat kill. Very fun I can't wait to try it. Then I'm back in my nest in WindClan. I'll practice my new move today.

Chapter 9

I was up before Icysplash was. I had already scarfed down a vole and I was waiting by the apprentice den. When the sun was just over the horizon Icysplash came toward the apprentice den. "What are we doing today?" I ask. "Getting moss for the elders." Icysplash said. I sighed. I followed Icysplash to the spot of my first murder. So beautiful. I grabbed some moss in my jaws and headed back to camp. I changed the elders bedding and gave them new. When I become leader I'll let the elders live they deserve it. They once caught prey for my clan. It was only sunhigh and I was bored. Icysplash came over to me "We're doing battle training with Harepaw." He said. I beat Harepaw easily. But then on our last rounds he beat me. He wouldn't stop bragging and his taunts where ringing in my ears. Well that seals his fate. I challenged him to a race to the border stream. I beat him. When he got there I shoved his head under the water. I let him have some air to keep him conscious but then shoved him under again. I then let him up and did the no throat kill. Man. My brother was a weak pathetic cat who deserved to die. I can't wait to see what Mapleshade says!

Chapter 10

~one moon

I was stalking a hare. It reminded me of my brother Harepaw. I have managed to gain the trust of Swiftpaw. I could probably trust him with my life. I started to run after the hare. I swiftly caught it and killed it. I took it in my jaws and brought it to camp. "Hi Swiftpaw!" I said cheerfully. "Hi Coldpaw!" He mewed. I put my hare on the fresh kill pile and shared a rabbit with Swiftpaw.

Believe it or not I was going to let some cats live. I mean what's the point of being a leader if you don't have a clan.

I looked at the sky and saw that it was only sunhigh. As if on cue Icysplash came over.
"We are doing a border patrol." He said.

"Okay." I mewed. We checked the ShadowClan border. Nothing. "Can we do battle training?" I asked him. "Okay." Icysplash agreed. He taught me the playing dead and coming up move. Useless. If an enemy pins you down clearly the best way is to throw the off and kill them.

It was finally sunset. I groomed myself and waited for nighttime. After what seemed like moons the sun finally sunk. I dashed to my nest and closed my eyes.

"Hello Coldpaw." Mapleshade said. "Hello Mapleshade." I mewed cheerfully tonight we are learning the most important move of all."

Sry this is so short it's kind of a filler chapter

Chapter 11

"The death blow." I already knew many ways to kill a cat but the death blow was most effective. I stared in awe. Mapleshade saw the look of wonder on my face. "Let's practice it shall we?" She asked. We practiced for hours. I had mastered it!. Mapleshade circled around me in a slow slink. "What do you plan to do with this knowledge?" She asked. "Take over WindClan." I said. Mapleshade looked satisfied. Mapleshade opened her mouth as if she was going to say something but suddenly Tigerstar crashed onto the riverside "StarClan kit captured." He said triumphantly. Mapleshade nodded. Tigerstar raced away to tell Brokenstar. Suddenly I felt myself being pulled away "No!" I yowled digging my claws into the ground. "You'll be back tonight." Mapleshade said before I was sucked into consciousness. "Coldpaw wake up!" I heard Swiftpaw saying. I groggily got out of my nest with my paws sore and my eyes sticky. Icysplash came over "how about a morning run to wake you up?" He gently asked. All I could do was nod my head. Me and Icysplash ran to the ThunderClan border. I decided to jump into the border stream to wake myself up. Needless to say it worked. I was soaking wet and cold but woken up. Me and Icysplash spent the day hunting. I caught three rabbits and Icysplash had two voles and a thrush. We carried out prey back to camp. What I saw next broke my stone heart.

Sry for not updating and now giving you a crappy short chapter. Have a cliffhanger.

Chapter 12

Swiftpaw was dead. I gave a wail. "What happened?" I asked. "He was attacked by a dog" Nightstar said.

JK! Sorry if any of you get mad but I wanted to do that.

Stormkit was dead. The little kit had seemed like he had potential. Oh well I might of killed him anyway.

I was glad it wasn't Swiftpaw though. He seemed like he might make a good deputy. Maybe mate. I'll say it now. I do believe in love and I do have a crush on Swiftpaw.

Tigerstar had kits and Hawkfrost was awesome. But I'm not gonna rush into things.
Icysplash came over.

"We are doing an evening patrol." He said. I inwardly sighed. I was tired from a long day of hunting. Oh well I went to the Dark Forest every other night because I was their most promising apprentice.

We went to the ThunderClan border. I saw a patrol lead by Cinderheart. On the patrol was Cinderheart, Sunpaw, Frozenfern, and Firepaw. I decided to have a little fun.

I jumped into the stream. I may not be RiverClan but I actually liked to swim. There was a small stream in my cave so sometimes I brought fresh kill and spent a lot of time down there.

One day I slipped into the stream. My paws where able to touch the ground but I had liked the water. I taught myself to swim.

Icysplash looked confused and the ThunderClan cats looked angry. "What are you doing in the stream?" Cinderheart asked defensively.

"Swimming." I said rolling my ice blue eyes.
Then I casually hopped out of the stream and shook water of my fur.

As soon as the ThunderClan mouse brains where our of ear shot Icysplash came up to me "What.....was.....that about?" He asked with concern and confusion written in his gaze.

"I...I like to swim." I admitted. "But who taught you? Where did you swim?" Icysplash asked. I explained my story. "Don't tell any cat please." I begged. I'm not one to beg but I really wanted the tunnel to be my secret. "Fine." Icysplash said

Sry for all of these but I need to do this one

Honeyfern0308 thank you for finding this and telling me about it!! Thank you soooooo sooooo soooooo much for finding this and telling me about it. You have no idea! Could you redo the cover for me with this cat? Thanks!

Chapter 13

~two moons later~

I can't believe it. Tomorrow is my warriors assessment and I couldn't be more happy ever. These six moons of apprenticeship have been long and boring. But in three sunrises I'll be a warrior! Wow it can only go up from here. I'll climb the ranks like a squirrel climbs trees. Once I reach leader WindClan will be stronger. Better. Respected.

Swiftpaw and I where talking about what warrior name we thought would be cool. Swiftpaw wanted Swiftbreeze and I wanted Coldcreek. Heatherbloom came over "You two are going hunting okay." She said. "Umm okay." I said. We reached the training field. "Swiftpaw and Coldpaw you will be hunting together." Heatherbloom said.

Me and Swiftpaw where on the moor and I saw a rabbit. "Swiftpaw drive the rabbit to me." I whispered. He nodded and sped off. A black and white blur. I smiled as I killed the dumb rabbit. I caught a vole and Swiftpaw caught a mouse. We each carried our prey back to the training clearing at sunset where our mentors where waiting for us.

Heatherbloom and Icysplash where very impressed. I noticed that Swiftpaw had moved his nest closer to mine. I gave a happy sigh and settled into my nest. Then my eyes flew open. I saw Tigerstar in the dark forest. "Hello." He said.

Sorry this is kind of a filler chapter

Chapter 14

The day was here. The day I was waiting for my entire life. My warrior assessment. Maybe I'll even have the courage to tell Swiftpaw how I feel about him.

Our mentors came up. My face was bloody since I had just eaten a rabbit. The sun wasn't even up. "You have until sunhigh to catch as much prey as you can. To pass the assignment you must catch at least four pieces." Icysplash mewed. I gulped four pieces was a lot of prey and till sunhigh was only a few hours. I took a deep breath. I could do this.

It was close to sunhigh and I had a buzzard a rabbit and two mice. I saw Icysplash during my assessment. With fur as white as his it was hard to hide in green leaf.

I reached the training clearing with my buzzard in my mouth. I dropped it when I saw Icysplash. "I'll help you get the rest of your prey." Icysplash said. I nodded then I saw Swiftpaw coming with two young rabbits in his mouth. Icysplash and I collected my rabbit and two mice. I saw Swiftpaw had gotten three voles in addition to his rabbits.

"You have passed!" Heatherbloom exclaimed excitedly. Me and Swiftpaw smiled. I did a little jump in excitement. We headed back to camp. Nightstar looked very proud when he saw me. I didn't feel sorry to say it but I had never been close to my father. As far as I considered it I didn't have a mother. Icysplash was kind of a father figure to me.

I decided to take a nap since I was exhausted. When I woke up it was way passed sunhigh but far from sunset. I saw Nightstar leap on top of his den to call a meeting. I raced into the field. Swiftpaw was hit on my tail. "Swiftpaw do you promise to defend your clan even with your life." Nightstar said. "I do!" Swiftpaw rang out. "Coldpaw do you promise to defend your clan even with your life Nightstar asked me. "I do." I lied. "Then your name will be Coldsoul and Swiftpaw from now on you will be known as Swifthare." I purred as my name was chanted. Next time it will be Cold*star*

Chapter 15

~one moon later~
Today was the day. I was going to tell
Swifthare how I felt about him. I had never been more nervous in my life. Even when I had killed Skytail. I walked up to him "H-hey Swifthare wanna g-go h-hu-hunting." I stuttered. I wanted to kick myself. I'm such a mouse brain. "Okay Coldsoul." He mewed.

I went to notify our deputy Dusttail. Then me and Swifthare went onto the moor. "Let's go to the sky view." I suggested. It was a great view in our territory and with the sun setting it would be even better. "Sit down." I told Swifthare when we reached the view. "Um okay." Swifthare said. I gulped. I was terrified. And if he rejected me I knew I couldn't get bring myself to kill him. Though my name is Coldsoul I do have feelings. "S-Swifthare ?" I asked. "Yes?" He said. I took a breath. "W-will you be my mate?" I asked. I saw Swifthare's eyes widen. "Yes." He said. I couldn't do anything but purr. I wrapped my tail with his and butted his head with mine.

We came straight back to camp without hunting. Dusttail saw us without prey but he noticed that we had inner twined tails so he gave me a happy nod. We shared a rabbit together. We slept next to each other in the Warriors den. I smiled happily. The next morning I woke up to see Glimmerkit and Skykit playing together. I remember when I was a kit. Tomorrow was their apprentice ceromony. Hopefully I get one to mentor one so I can be deputy.

"HI!" Glimmerkit said

Chapter 16

I looked up at the stars. Pitiful really. The oh so great and mysterious StarClan? Just pitiful dots in the sky. If I where to be something in the sky I would want to be the sun. Blazing and burning at times but at others Icy cold. I padded to the Warriors den. Tomorrow was the kits ceromony and I am praying to the Dark Forest that I will mentor one.

I went to my nest and closed my eyes hoping sleep would come. I saw Mapleshade. "Hello Mapleshade." I said dipping my head in greeting. "Hi Coldpaw." Mapleshade said emotionlessly. "It's Coldsoul now." I mewed. Mapleshade looked at me approvingly. She had an exited gleam in her eyes. "Today you will be fighting Redmoon." Mapleshade mewed. I unsheathed my claws. Then because I liked to look of it dipped the tips of my claws into the blood river. Intimidation is key, isn't it? I saw the russet tom and leaped out toward him. He didn't even look startled. We had these kind of fights in the dark forest all the time. The only rule was no killing. We need as many recruits as possible that are alive. The dark forest has changed a little. We are all still cold hearted and ruthless but also more strategic. I decided that I would blind him momentarily. I raked my claws across his eyes and watched the blood trickle down. I laughed as I raked my claws against his stomach. I laughed as he shrieked in pain. I hardly heard his yield over my maniac laughter. I saw Mapleshade's yellow eyes gleaming with pleasure. I started coughing crazily, maniac laughter isn't very easy on the throat. I sat down and tried to regain my dignity. Mapleshade gave a sigh " She-cats just aren't respected in the Dark Forest. It's just me,you, and Snowtuft." She mewed. I nodded my head in agreement "It's sad but true." I mewed. Mapleshade's yellow eyes narrowed. "I have a plan." She mewed. "What?" I asked. "You are going to corrupt one of the kits. Both are she-kits. Also when you are done mentoring set up a battle. Make yourself look brave. Then kill the deputy." I looked at Mapleshade. "Yes mentor." I mewed.

Chapter 17

Today was the kits ceremony. Nightstar had notified me that I would be getting Skykit. I suppose Skykit was better than that annoying furball Glimmerkit. I looked up. Almost sunhigh. My whiskers twitched in amusement as I heard Skykit and Glimmerkit shrieking for their mother to stop grooming them. My mother had done that. I saw Skykit and Glimmerkit come out of the nursery very well groomed. Like seriously their pelts where almost shining. Glimmerkit was bouncing around while Skykit looked deep in thought. Skykit's blue-gray pelt was reflected in the puddle. Glimmerkit's fiery russet fur was almost gleaming because it was so well groomed. Nightstar leaped onto his den, "All cats old enough to catch their own prey gather around for a clan meeting!" He yowled. His electric green eyes bore into my soul. I didn't want to look suspicious so I returned his gaze with my red eyes. He turned his gaze to Glimmerkit. Glimmerkit's yellow eyes looked up at Nightstar. "Glimmerkit from now on you will be known as Glimmerpaw. Dusttail this will be your third apprentice, I hope you will mentor her well." Nightstar meowed. Glimmerkit went up to Dusttail and touched noses. "Skykit from now on you will be known as Skypaw. Coldsoul from now on you will mentor Skypaw." He mewed. Skypaw came up to me and we touched noses.

Sorry for not updating. And this being a short chapter. Wifi decided to shut down so yeah. I am stealing this from a gas station

Chapter 18

~two moons later~

Skypaw is developing well. She has already learned an important lesson. Only the strongest survive and kindness is for the weak.

Today is battle training. Today I will teach her the no throat kill. (~two hours later~). Skypaw is learning well. Glimmerpaw is an annoying pain. I may have to.....dispose of her. She hinders Skypaw from being as evil as she can. Maybe I'll feed her deathberries Glimmerpaw came up to me. "HI!!" She mewed as loud as she possibly could. I forced myself to not kill her,yet. I put a scowl on my face "Go wake up your sister. And tell your mentor that you are coming with me today." I said. Glimmerpaw sat down. "Your not my mentor." She mewed sassily.

I stood up and lifted one paw threateningly. Glimmerpaw still sat there so I swatted her on the head. I growled and finally the annoying kit scampered off. I will be glad to get rid off that russet furball. She is much too disobedient for me. I would never want a minion as disobedient as that.

Skypaw came out of the apprentice den with Glimmerpaw at her side. We are going to the ShadowClan border." I mewed. Glimmerpaw voiced around like the stupid kit she was and Skypaw gave a simple nod.

I decided Glimmerpaw can lose a race before she died. "Skypaw,Glimmerpaw race each other to the ShadowClan border.

Skypaw dropped in a Hunter's crouch and Glimmerpaw looked like she was straining her legs. "Go!" I commanded. Skypaw shot off like a rabbit and Glimmerpaw was running like the wind. We reached the ShadowClan border. I looked at Glimmerpaw. "Stay here." I mewed.

I looked at Skypaw with my intense red eyes. "Preform the no-throat kill on your sister or I kill you both." I threatened. I saw the fear in her blue eyes. "I'll do it." Skypaw mewed

Chapter 19

Skypaw walked over to her sister. She gave a loud cold sinister laugh. "This will be fun." She muttered. Glimmerpaw looked at her confused, "What?" She asked tilting her head. "You're about to find out." Skypaw said.

Without any warning Skypaw dug her claws into Glimmerpaw's chest. Glimmerpaw's yellow eyes widened in terror. Blood was gushing from the nasty wound. Skypaw whispered something in her sister's ear.

Skypaw P.O.V

"I'm doing this for a greater good." I whispered to my sister. Coldsoul is a fool if she thinks I want to be evil. When I am older and stronger I will kill her! StarClan couldn't approve of a cat as foul as Coldsoul. I dug my claws out of Glimmerpaw's chest than gave her stomach a deep wound to kill her. I was acting happy but on the inside I wish I had died. Glimmerpaw would now be happy in StarClan. May she rest in eternal peace.

Coldsoul P.O.V

Glimmerpaw was finally dead.I was very proud of Skypaw. She is a very loyal minion. Swifthare will be my deputy. Dark forest forbid anything happen to him but if something did Skypaw would be the next best choice. I loved Skypaw as a daughter honestly, I hope she loves me as a mother. In five moons she will be a warrior. Although I have a few tests for her coming up to test her loyalty

Chapter 20

Me and Skypaw had to carry the body back to camp. I was very proud of Skypaw for her first murder. Now it's time to test her acting skill. "Skypaw when we get back act full of grief." I instructed. "Okay." Skypaw mewed. We were nearing camp. "Now run in I'll take the body." I said. Skypaw gave a nod and ran off like a rabbit running from the Hunter. I'm a lucky murderer, I thought to myself.

I shot off running from that insane murderer as soon as she gave the command. She was the evil Tigerstar and I pictured myself as the legendary hero, master of the clans,savior of the stars,Firestar. I'm no servant to that maniac Coldsoul. I'm merely a spy. Like Ivypool, She spied on the Dark Forest and I'm spying on Coldsoul. We are both hero's in discuses. I reached camp, "GLIMMERPAW WAS KILLED!!" I wailed. Then it hit me, I would never see her again. My legs buckled and I broke down sobbing like crazy. I saw Coldsoul enter camp then everything went pitch black.

Coldsoul P.O.V

I came in with Glimmerpaw's body on my back. In the middle of camp I saw Skypaw passed out, "What happened?!" I yowled out of concern. Lilyflower looked up at me "She probably passed out due to grief and exhaustion." She said. "How did Glimmerpaw die?" She asked me. "ShadowClan!" I spat. "We had a fight and those mangy fox hearts killed her!" I lied. "Nightstar knows, he will plan the mourning night." Lillyflower said. "I'm very sorry about your apprentice." She said.

Chapter 21

Glimmerpaw was racing after me and so was Skytail and Harepaw. I was running as fast as my legs could take me. I tripped over a root and suddenly all three cats were on top of me,they began to claws my sides and neck. Then a white and black tom came racing and knocked them off me.

It was Swifthare. He bravely took on all three of them, suddenly I couldn't move not speak. The cats I had murdered began to kill my mate and I could do nothing to help him. I opened my red eyes and saw I was in the Warriors den. It all came back to me now.

Last night I had sat vigil for Glimmerpaw with her family excluding Skypaw. I had been so tired after the vigil I had gone to my nest and collapsed. I thanked the dark forest for letting my dream only be a dream. I padded outside and saw that it was halfwayv to sunhigh.

Dusttail padded over to me, "Could you go on a hunting patrol with Runningfox and Petaldance?"! He asked. I looked at the deputy "After I see my apprentice." I mewed, walking off to the medicine den.

When I walked in I saw Skypaw sitting up in her nest and Dawnsong sorting herbs. "Can she go back to training?" I asked the medicine cat. She didn't even look up, "I want her to rest today." Dawnsong said. I sighed and padded out to meet my patrol. "Let's go." I said.

We walked out of camp and onto the moor. Runningfox spotted a plump hare nibbling on some grass. I got into position to catch the hare.

Skypaw P.O.V

I was bored out of my mind! Although being bored beats hunting with Coldsoul the murderer. Being in the medicine cat den gave me an idea though. I will stuff a rabbit with deathberries and give it to Coldsoul! Although if this plan fails I will probably be killed. Either killed by Coldsoul or exiled by Nightstar.

I don't wanna be a rouge but death sounds worse. I'm so sorry that Glimmerpaw had to suffer death. It should have been me. But I will avenge my sister's death.

Avenge or die

Chapter 22

Skypaw P.O.V

Every cat in camp is asleep besides Fallenfrost who is on guarding duty. I quietly grabbed a small shrew and went back to the medicine den, I looked around nervously afraid that I would be spotted. I grabbed a scarlet deathberry and shoved it down the throat of the shrew.

Coldsoul deserved this. She made me kill my sister. I may be preparing to kill a cat right now, but the cat I'm killing is a vile murderer. I won't be getting sleep tonight, not if all should go according to plan.

I already have my story ready, I'll be tired because I went "Hunting" for Coldsoul. I'll tell her I want to have a chat on the moor. The shrew will be something to munch on during our "chat"', she will take a bite and die. Plan completed. Let's just hope I don't die.

~The next morning~

Coldsoul comes up to me, I give a yawn "Hi Coldsoul." I say blearily. "Why are you so tired?" Coldsoul asked me. "I went hunting for you last night." I lied. Coldsoul gives me a smile of happiness "Thank you!" She mews with genuine gratefulness. I gave her a nod and grab my shrew.

"Can we talk on the moor?" I ask her. "Sure!" My murdering mentor replies. "I'll eat the shrew while you talk." She says.

We walk out onto the moor. Coldsoul takes a mouthful of my shrew. I smile with pleasure. "Die you pathetic she-cat!" I scream "I hope you now feel the pain of your victims!" I cheer. But then I realize she isn't dying.

Wrong shrew.

Rabbit dung.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO ME

YAYYYYYYYYYYYY!! It's my Birthday! And you know what I want for it? Feedback. I LOVE it when you guys comment on my chapters so if you could I would love it.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO ME

Chapter 23

I hardly see Coldsoul bring up her paw and unsheathe her claws to kill me. My life flashes before my eyes. I feel pain on my ribs. Ribs? She's doing the no-throat kill. "I yowl as loud as I can hoping for help. I scream at the agony of it all. Coldsoul gives me a good blow to the head and I'm dizzy. Then she drags me to a near by stream and dunks my head under. I haven't even taken a good breath.

She takes her claws across my stomach again and again. I have to endure the agony and suck in water. Then she brings my head up so I can hear her. "You traitor!" She screamed at me. I vomit up water. "Prepare to die." She said in a silky smooth whisper. She grabs a floating stick and beats me with it. Enough that I'm in agony but conscious. She bit off my tail for extra agony. She rolls me onto my back and plants a paw on my chest.

"I hate you!" She yowled in my ear. She delivers the death blow to my stomach and suddenly I'm not in my body. I expected Brokenstar to come lead me to the Dark Forest for killing my sister. But instead Glimmerpaw herself comes. "Follow me to StarClan." My sister says in her beautiful voice that I've missed.

I failed. I died. I failed the clans. What have I done?

Coldsoul P.O.V

That traitor!! I hope she was in a lot of pain when she died. I think I'll burry her body on ThunderClan territory and then tell Nightstar she told me she hates WindClan and ran away.

Okay I'll do that, but then a thought crosses my mind. What if she's going to torture me from StarClan? I shake my head to clear the stupidity of that. None of my other victims have so why should she?

But then I hear whispering on the moor. No cats there. My on shadow comes to life and is behind me. I scream and start sprinting as fast as I can. Suddenly the world is black like night but I'm awake. It's sunny again but blinding.

I run into camp screaming with a pack of badgers behind me. Warriors in camp ask me what's wrong. "T-the badgers!" I scream at them. My legs buckle beneath me. They drag me into the medicine den but instead of Dawnsong it's a Shadow cat. The Shadow cat come near me. I lash out at it. warriors pin me down and restrain me. I scream at them to let me kill the shadow cat. Swifthare comes in and asks what's wrong. The shadow cat hisses at him.

"Get away from him!" I scream at the shadow cat. Spiritdash bats me on the head and I'm out cold.

Chapter 24

4 people who where confused Coldsoul went insane. Everything will be explained. Oh I can't update this weekend. I'll be on vaca. Where I'm going there isn't service.

I wake up in a small area surrounded by brambles. Then a rush of pain enters my head and I give a moan of pain. I can barely see a black and white tom on the other side of the brambles, "Where am I?" I ask him with my hoarse voice. The tom jumps with surprise "You're awake?" He asks me. I recognize that voice, it's Swifthare. "Where am I?!" I call out. Swifthare slips through a small hole that I didn't notice. "You went crazy last night." He said.

He touched his nose to mine "I was worried." He said. I curled next to him like a kit "So there was no shadow cat?" I whisper. "No shadow cat." Swifthare confirmed with a smile.

"What happened last night?" I ask my mate. Swifthare opens his mouth but now sound comes out. He tries again and says "I'll explain."

Swifthare P.O.V

I look at my beautiful mate with her white fur and red eyes, wondering how to tell her what she did last night.

I decided to give myself a little time to think "let me get you the medicine Dawnsong wants you to take." I say. Before my mate can even open her mouth I dash out of her "prison" as I call it.

While she was passed out at team of warriors including myself took her to spot in camp and built a wall of brambles and thorns at Dawnsong's and Nightstar's orders.

They said she would be unstable for a moon or so. My family tried to comfort me but their words did nothing. Nothing could ease the pain in my heart.

Dawnsong has some herbs she wants Coldsoul to eat daily so I stop by and grab those. The green stems feel weird in my mouth. I slip back into the prison and drop the herbs at her feet.

"Eat." I instructed. Coldsoul gave a sigh and lapped up the herbs. "Tell me what happened last night." Coldsoul demanded. I gave a sigh "fine." I mewed

Chapter 25

Swifthare P.O.V

I took a breath and mentally prepared myself for telling my mate what happened when she went insane. "Here's what happened." I said "You ran into camp after Skypaw got killed. Then you screamed crazy things about a shadow cat. Some warriors to you to the medicine den but you wouldn't let Dawnsong near you. Spiritdash had to knock you out, then we dragged you out here and built this prison." I told Coldsoul.

Her red eyes where wide with fear, "I went crazy?" She whispered. I wasn't quite sure how to answer that, on the fly I said "you won't anymore." , I hope that's true.

I ran to the medicine den and got Coldsoul her herbs. But then Dusttail told me I would be going on a hunting patrol with Runningfox and Leafbreeze.

I hope Coldsoul is okay while I'm gone.

Coldsoul P.O.V

I was in the corner of my prison shaking with fear. I wondered if I was a now insane cat that couldn't be helped. I hope not.

I decided I needed to get out of camp. Of course I wasn't permitted to go anywhere bye any means. Swifthare brought me prey and medicine, and I had to make dirt and pee in a corner of my den.

I could feel the walls closing in on me, squeezing the air out of my lungs. I just needed to get out of my prison, so I guess I'll escape.

I slipped through the hole where Swifthare entered. He was supposed to cover it with a thorn brush when he was done but he had forgot.

There where two other cats with white fur so I hoped that a would be confused for Whitebirch or Cloudmist.

I walked through camp and nobody paid me any attention. I walked out of camp and then I sprinted on the moor

Chapter 26

I was on the moor stalking a mouse when I saw a patrol coming. I jumped and ran back to camp. When I was outside of camp I went onto a slope and made a leap for my prison. I made it. That was too close for comfort, but so worth it.

What a pitiful clan of fools I live in. I could be gone for a day and they wouldn't notice.

Swifthare came and brought me a rabbit. I decided I may as well chat with him since he is the only cat I would see for a little while.

"So how was your hunting patrol?" I asked in between bites. "It was okay." Swifthare said. "That rabbit was the only thing I caught." He added glumly. "It'd delicious." I said with my mouth full. Swifthare laughed and said "Clearly."

I smiled. I would have thought of something to say but Swifthare interrupted my thoughts and said "I have to go." And left. I laid down and sighed, resting my head on my paws.

I closed my eyes and hoped I could escape the painfulness of conciseness with sleep.

SOOOOOOO SORRRRRRRYY

GUYS I AM SO SORRY I WASN'T ON WATTPAD FOR DOO LONG SOO SORRY PLZ FORGIVE ME

THE FINAL CHAPTER

Well. Guys I'm sorry but... I'm ending this book. It's just, I've kinda lost interest in it. I may update it eventually though but for now it's on pause
